

Stand out in the crowd

Expand your qualifications, empower yourself and be noticed.

Further your skills and study a postgraduate course with Monash Law School. Stay ahead of your colleagues by studying a particular law specialisation, expand your current knowledge or gain an accredited law degree. Programs are available for lawyers and non-lawyers.

Postgraduate law offers

- Internationally recognised programs taught in the CBD
- Masters, graduate diplomas and single unit enrolments
- Flexible study options to suit your study needs
- Highest calibre teaching from award-winning academics and legal practitioners

Already have a degree? Then choose the Monash JD

The Monash JD is a graduate law degree open to applicants with undergraduate degrees in non-law disciplines.

The Monash JD offers

- An accredited law degree in under three years
- The flexibility to work while you study (trimester format)
- A convenient, city-based location for most classes at the Monash Law Chambers
- Small class sizes, quality teaching and an interactive, diverse learning environment
- Wide range of electives to choose from in a range of specialist areas
