

Family drug problem

If your brother or sister is using alcohol or drugs, and may also have a mental health problem, then you might be feeling overwhelmed, confused or drained.

Sibling Support is a program specifically aimed for siblings who are affected by their brother or sister's alcohol and or drug use. Sibling Support will provide you access to a whole range of services and give you some ideas on 'how to get through this'.

Does your brother or sister's alcohol or drug use bring you down? You're not alone.

Learn and discuss your issues and get help and support for yourself.

Sibling Support provides siblings affected by addiction in the family with a range of free online services. They also have a new face to face support group in Carnegie.
