

Teaching

"Teaching [is] something I've always wanted to do – it's a great way to make a difference," says University of Melbourne Master of Teaching (Primary) candidate Jayden Spudvilas-Powell. "I love being in the classroom two days a week, and really like the way this course gives you the chance to apply what you learn at uni on placement in school. The classroom experience has reaffirmed this is the career for me. I had the chance to go on placement to an international school in India last year. It was a real challenge, but I learned so much."

masterofteachingmelbourne.edu.au

Tasmania

The University of Tasmania (UTAS) is ranked in Academic Ranking of World Universities 2013 in the top ten research universities in Australia and in the top two per cent of universities in the world. It provides international leadership in five thematic areas: Creativity & Culture; Health & Wellbeing; Environment & Sustainability; Marine, Maritime & Antarctic; and Enabling Platforms, each offering a range of graduate research studies. UTAS offers generous living stipends including Elite Research Scholarships for outstanding domestic and international candidates. Work with leading researchers, using world-class facilities. Phone 03 6226 8559, or email graduate.research@utas.edu.au utas.edu.au/GR

Make film

If you have an enquiring mind and a highly visual outlook, then documentary or narrative filmmaking is an inspired choice of profession. The Master of Film and Television at the VCA is a practice-based graduate coursework degree studied full time over two years, with the option to exit after year one with a graduate diploma. Students specialise in one stream: narrative or documentary, and are trained in research methods, screen language and writing, and then write, direct and edit their own productions. To find out more about the program, attend the information session, Tuesday 17 September. More information: vca.unimelb.edu.au/gradstudy2013

Business

Over the last five decades MBS has built an outstanding reputation for world-class management research and teaching, and is one of just two Australian business schools in the Financial Times' global MBA rankings. They have a proud legacy of advancing the careers of graduates and transforming organisations through exceptional learning experience. As well as technical and functional excellence, they educate people to lead themselves, others and organisations. The program portfolio is taught in partnership with the Faculty of Business and Economics (FBE). The FBE is home to a wide range of departments, specialist research centres and more than 220 academic staff.

PUGGY HUNTER MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP SCHEME

Opens 22 July 2013 – Closes 16 September 2013

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander health scholarships are available for undergraduate or entry level courses in the following areas:

- > Aboriginal health work
- > Allied health
- > Dentistry/oral health
- > Medicine
- > Midwifery
- > Nursing

Scholarships in the 2014 academic year are worth up to $15,000 per year for full time study or $7,500 for part time study, for the normal duration of the course.

Apply online www.acn.edu.au | Freecall 1800 688 628

Puggy Hunter Memorial Scholarship Scheme is funded by the Australian Government, Department of Health and Ageing. ACN, Australia's professional organisation for all nurses, is proud to be the fund administrator for this program.

 Australian College of Nursing

This is the logo for The Pinnacle Foundation.

Gay* and no money to study? We can help!

The Pinnacle Foundation was established to provide scholarships and mentoring for disadvantaged gay* youth.

No matter what your interest or what you aspire to be, we may be able to offer the financial support and resources to help you get there!

We know potential when we see it.

Applications for 2014 Scholarships close 1 October 2013. For more information visit www.thepinnaclefoundation.org or call (02) 9990 4708

 Facebook.com/ThePinnacleFoundation

* Sorry, to be inclusive we really should say Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Intersex and Queer individuals but it became a really long sentence...